Background

The ongoing changes in human resources and payroll are a challenge for companies. But they should be recognised and implemented correctly. A MUST for all those who do not want to laboriously compile the most important aspects themselves.

I shed light on the various legal areas such as social security, taxes / wage statement, withholding taxes, labour law and others. In addition to a review of the year 2025, the already known changes for 1.1.2027 and later are presented.
